

- » By nine weeks old your unborn baby is about one inch long and recognizable as human. Baby's eyes, ears, nose and mouth have appeared and hands, fingers, feet and toes can be seen. Your unborn baby moves about freely in the womb, and studies have shown that he or she can respond to touch.
- » The unborn baby can kick and bend his head when his nose is touched. By twelve weeks your unborn baby's genitals begin to develop and the baby is recognizable as a boy or girl. Brain development is rapid now and the parts of the brain dealing with behavior and emotions are being laid down.

9 Weeks

VOLLSON® SONOGRAM - GE MEDICAL SYSTEMS